

2025 Year in Review

Thanks to the dedication of our donors, partners, and supporters, the Fertility Foundation of Texas expanded its reach, improved access to care, and helped more individuals and couples move forward on their fertility journey. This report reflects the power of what we can achieve when we come together.

Since 2013, the Fertility Foundation of Texas has been dedicated to supporting individuals and families burdened by the financial challenges of infertility through compassion, advocacy, and action.

As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, we provide one-time grants to qualified Central Texas patients while raising nationwide awareness that infertility is a treatable medical condition.

Your Support

Your generosity supports the families FFOTX serves each year.

THE JACKSON FAMILY

“After discovering FFOTX, we applied for a grant and when we were awarded it, I cried tears of joy. Their support lifted the financial burden and allowed us to focus on our journey with renewed hope. Today, we are blessed with two beautiful, healthy daughters. We will always hold FFOTX close to our hearts.”

THE NIKAH FAMILY

“The support of FFOTX gave us the means to keep going when the road felt overwhelming. We are eternally grateful this organization exists and hope to support other families the way we were supported. In 2025, I joined the FFOTX board and am honored to give back to the organization that helped build our family.”

THE MIOTKE FAMILY

“We applied for a grant, and when we were chosen to receive assistance, we could hardly believe it—suddenly, a path forward felt possible. Without FFOTX, we couldn’t have afforded IVF and wouldn’t have our beautiful, growing family. We are eternally grateful and always include FFOTX when we share our story.”

Dear Friends of FFOTX,

To say that 2025 was an incredible year for the Fertility Foundation of Texas feels like an understatement. The breadth and scope of what we were able to accomplish together over the past year have been both inspiring and deeply humbling.

As you'll see throughout this review, we continued to live out the mission established at our founding over a decade ago: to help qualified patients in Central Texas navigate the financial burden of infertility and necessary treatment with compassion, dignity, and hope.

I have been truly honored to lead and serve this organization during a year of meaningful growth and change. From improving access to our grants to strengthening our infrastructure and outreach, 2025 marked an important chapter in FFOTX's evolution. But none of this work happens without our donors, partners, and supporters, who make it possible for us to continue this mission year after year.

One of the most moving moments of this year has been receiving emails, updates, and beautiful photos from past grantees, families who welcomed babies in 2025 with the help of FFOTX grants. These messages are powerful reminders that behind every dollar granted is a real story, a real family, and a long-awaited dream coming true.

This mission is also deeply personal to me. I have walked the infertility journey myself. My daughter turned 22 this year, and without the generosity of those who supported us financially during our fertility journey, she would not be here today. This lived experience continues to guide my commitment to this work and to every family we serve.

As rates of infertility continue to rise, so does the need for access, advocacy, and financial support. While the challenges remain great, we are encouraged by the momentum for change and by the growing community of people who believe that infertility is a medical condition deserving of care, understanding, and action.

Thank you for standing with us, for believing in our mission, and for being part of the impact. Together, we are helping build families and hope across Central Texas.

With heartfelt gratitude,
Julie Lindholm

2025 Growth & Impact

AWARDED GRANTS

In 2025, we awarded more than $60,000 in fertility grants to individuals and couples in Central Texas, helping offset the high cost of IVF and other fertility treatments. Each grant represents hope, possibility, and a family moving one step closer to their dream.

NEW PODCAST

We're excited to share that we recorded and launched our very first FFOTX podcast, created to provide educational, accessible information about infertility. Episodes include conversations about our grant program as well as insights and guidance from experts in the fertility field, all offered for educational purposes to broaden awareness and understanding.

EASIER GIVING

We implemented a new donor software to make giving online easier and more accessible than ever. Supporters can now donate using multiple convenient options, including Venmo, Apple Pay, Google Pay, and Cash App—making it simpler to support our mission in the way that works best for them.

NEW DONORS

Thanks to many of you, we welcomed new donors this year, individuals and families who are newly committed to supporting our mission and standing with those navigating infertility. In addition, we were grateful to receive employee matching gifts, further extending the impact of individual donations.

WEBSITE REDESIGN

We redesigned our website to improve navigation, expand educational resources, and make it easier for applicants and supporters to find the information they need. At the same time, we introduced a new logo that better reflects our mission, our growth as an organization, and our ongoing commitment to the families we serve.

IMPROVED ACCESS

Behind the scenes, we made important improvements to better serve applicants by launching a new, streamlined online grant application. This update made it easier for individuals and couples to submit materials, helping simplify the application process during an already stressful time.
